ILLINOIS'S FOR SILVER.

Result Shown at the State Committee Meeting.

GOLDBUGS WERE FOILED.

They Had a Plan to Howl Down the Committee, but Hinchman Out-generaled Them.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, April 21.—The silver men are in absolute control of the Democratic party of Illinois.

This was shown yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the State Central Committee at the Sherman House to decide on the place and date of meeting and to fix the ratio of representation. There was no fight between the gold and silver men; scarcely anything that would indicate to a stranger that there is a vital question inside the Democratic party of the State. But on the side were a few clouds of dust and a few flashes of lightning. The open meeting of the committee, as well as the executive session, was remarkable for harmony and apparent indifference to any factional quarrel. That was due to two things. First, Chairman Hinchman outplayed the Chicago Chronicle in a game of politics; second, some of Mr. Morrison's friends on the committee had a bushel of bricks dropped on them two days ago, and those bricks were inscribed with the name of William C. Whitney of New York.

Some two weeks ago the Chronicle, thinking to play a shrewd game for "sound money," sent out a lot of letters to Democratic over the State asking them to come to this meeting and carry it off for Cleveland and gold by mere force of numbers. One of those letters fell into the hands of Hinchman, and he immediately sent out a letter to the State asking them to come and make themselves heard if necessary. As was intended, this letter got to the Chicago papers, and published, and the gold men, seeing that they were outgeneraled, mostly remained away from the meeting. But the silver men came. They came in crowds from all parts of the State. I met silver men from every county in the 103 counties in the State. They even came from Pope and Massac, and I saw but two gold men from outside Chicago.

Two days ago Mr. Forman and Mr. Britton and some other of Morrison's friends came to Chicago to find out what was going on. For a few hours they were in high feather because of the silver men. They were saying that Morrison was a President-elect, and that the silver men were using Morrison's name to cover up a Whitney boom, and that they were not more truck with the Sound Money League. They were saying that the silver men were for free coinage of silver at 16 to 1; that Chicago Democrats are for the same thing; that the silver men control the State Convention; that at least ninety counties of the State are in the State will send silver delegations; and that the gold men's game of bluff won't win.

That was clearly shown in the committee meeting. For two weeks the gold men have been making two bluffs. Hinchman has called these bluffs.

The gold men have been saying that if the ratio of representation in the State Convention was fixed by the ratio of the vote of 1892 they could control the convention, but they asserted that Hinchman was a "clerk" and that he was not to be trusted.

The gold men claimed again that Hinchman would not have the Chicago delegates selected by primaries because the gold men could carry the primaries. To-day, with the full consent of Hinchman, the ratio was based on the vote of 1892.

Springfield were turned to Peoria. Dr. Watson squelched him by saying: "The gentleman has no right to make a speech for either city. He is not a member save by proxy, and comes here representing a peculiar following."

That remark was a shot at Burdett's connection with the goldbug Chronicle, and the shot went home.

One unfortunate thing about the contest been in Springfield and Peoria was the fact that Springfield advocates had almost as much to say against Peoria as in favor of their own city. On the other hand, Judge Worthington and Frank Quinn, who talked for Peoria, did not refer to Springfield except in a complimentary manner. It is to be hoped that the Springfield people and strangers that there is vital question inside the Democratic party of the State.

But on the side were a few clouds of dust and a few flashes of lightning. DRIVEN BACK TO BULLWAGO.

A Scouting Party Finds the Matabeles in Force.

RELIEF A LONG WAY OFF.

Fifteen Hundred Armed Boers Are Said to Be Lurking in the Vicinity of Mafeking.

CAPE TOWN, April 21.—Capt. Napier, with a force of about 200 men, left Bullwago yesterday morning, according to a dispatch received here from that place, on a reconnoitering expedition. The Matabeles, it was then believed, had moved southward, away from the positions they had occupied, intending to intercept the relief corps advancing from Mafeking. But the scouting party was surprised to find the enemy still in force about five miles northeast of Bullwago. Napier's command was fired upon and returned the enemy's fire and then retreated in good order. It was feared that a month or more would be required to reach the relief corps, and that the relief corps would be unable to reach Mafeking before the enemy would be able to reach it.

It now appears that while it is true that several thousand Matabeles have struck camp, there are enough of them remaining in the vicinity of Bullwago to cause the most uneasy. Eighteen wagons loaded with provisions have succeeded in entering the town, but there are many mouths to feed and the relief corps is still a long way off and moving slowly on account of the scarcity of water and the ravages of the Rinderpest among the cattle. In fact, it is feared that a month or more will elapse before the Mafeking relief corps can reach Bullwago, and a great deal may happen in that time.

The officials of the British Chartered Co. are doing everything possible under the circumstances. They are paying large bonuses to transport riders and volunteers and are hurrying forward supplies as fast as possible, but the situation grows darker every day.

Fully 200 persons have been killed by the Matabeles since the uprising began, and men of experience in South African warfare claim to see in the tactics of the natives the guiding hand of the leaders of the Transvaal Boers. The Boers have mustered about 1,500 men and several guns, according to reports, at a convenient distance from Mafeking and it is believed that they are more than willing to make common cause with the Matabeles.

The British Cabinet meets to-day. The meeting will be held in the morning, and will be devoted to the consideration of the situation in South Africa. It is believed that the Cabinet will decide to send a large number of men to Mafeking, and that the relief corps will be able to reach Mafeking before the enemy will be able to reach it.

HARMFUL HIGH HATS.

Effect in Brooklyn of the Women's Crusade Against Them.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 21.—There was considerable curiosity aroused last night in Brooklyn theaters over the effects of the high hat crusade of the Women's Health Protective Association against the wearing of the high theater hat. It was noticeable that a larger number of women than usual had taken off their hats, so the managers did not even put up a notice requesting the removal of the head-gear.

PARKER'S HYPNOTIC SLEEP.

When Aroused From It He Was a Physical Wreck.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 21.—Edward Parker, the man that Prof. Ferris has held under hypnotic influence for 15 consecutive hours, looked more like a corpse than a sleeping man at noon yesterday.

So corpse-like was Parker and so unsuccessful the professor's efforts to arouse him, that women and men in the gallery who could see the subject's face groaned and abused the professor so angrily that trouble was feared.

Finally Parker's lips twitched. A woman in the gallery screamed hysterically and could be quieted only by threats of ejection.

Perseverance dropped from Ferris' face. He spoke sharply: "Now! Now!" and the subject's temples with both hands, the professor pressed the scalp so strongly that it stood up from the forehead bones in a big welt. Then for the first time Parker moved his arms.

Prof. Ferris ordered his assistants to take hold of the man's legs and arms. They scarcely had done so when Parker went into convulsions in which he nearly threw the four men holding him off the platform.

Again the professor commanded: "Now! Now!" Parker lay still, sighed deeply and opened his eyes. The professor spoke to him quietly.

A WONDERFUL BULL DOG.

"Doc" Flattens Out a Few Theories in the Post-Dispatch Office.

From time to time articles have appeared in the newspapers and magazines about the intelligence of dogs and the adaptability of the various species to training. Almost without exception the writers have consigned the bull dog to the lowest place in point of intelligence, and have often asserted that the ugly-looking brute is incapable of imbibing even the most patient and careful tuition.

This theory finds a controvertor in Fred

Satana, now stopping at the St. James

Hotel, and incidentally, also, in "Doc,"

"Doc" is a bull dog of unmistakable phys-ionomy and Satana is his master. The afforded columns on his tribe have reached "Doc's" ears, so on Monday afternoon he called at the Post-Dispatch office with his master for the purpose of demonstrating his fallacy.

At his master's suggestion "Doc" helped himself to a chair and then proceeded to count, add, subtract, multiply and do other things not usually included in a dog's education. It took "Doc" just about five minutes to overthrow all theories about the intelegence of bull dogs and convince the half dozen persons present that there are exceptions to all rules. Mr. Satana has trained many dogs, but never found "Doc's" superior for intelligence and docility. The dog was born in Australia and is now 21 years old.

Satana will back "Doc" against any dog in an all round display of intelligence.

The last round he landed a lucky blow and put out Terney.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

NUTLEY, N. J., April 21.—The mystery which attended the disappearance of Will-his home last night.

Furze says he remembers leaving his home and landing in New York City. From that time until about one week ago his memory was blank, and when he recovered his reason he found himself in Charleston,

S. C., among other strangers. All his money and jewelry were gone. But he took up a collection and sent him home. When

says, he had a large sum of money with him. He thinks he was snatched in New

ARUNED GYL WHO TELL

Old Carrie Mitchell's Strange Reticence.

NO CLUE TO HER BETRAYER.

A Wait Whose Sad Case Is Being Investigated by the Board of Health.

Alone in the world, without parent or friend, betrayed and deserted by a faithless lover, the life of a 15-year-old girl, Carrie Mitchell, has been a sad one.

Only once in many days has she betrayed the existence of the feelings she has been hiding. As she told a little of her unhappy childhood and mentioned her brother and two sisters, whom she has not seen for more than three years, and whose address she does not know, her blue eyes dimmed with tears, a deep sob shook her childish bosom and she ran away to hide her grief and would not return.

The Health Department has been requested to investigate the girl's condition, already known to the authorities at the House of Refuge, and in a few days she will be transferred to the Female Hospital or some other city institution to await the outcome of her childish ignorance and folly.

Carrie Mitchell is a bright-eyed little girl, rather stoutly built, with wavy brown hair, bright blue eyes and the rosiest of cheeks. Withal she has a saucy look and mischievous, pouting manner that is quite taking. She is inclined to be willful, and is sometimes inordinately vain. The cause of her best day she never gives another pain without immediately repeating the wrong. Her father was a coal miner and lived at Harrisburg, Saline County, Ill., where the children were born. When Carrie was 8 years old, her mother died. Two years later death claimed her father, and the four little ones were cast upon the world without support.

Carrie found shelter with a Mrs. Westfall at the summer of 1928, when Mrs. Westfall, being unable to support her longer, took up collection among her neighbors, purchased a ticket, gave it to Carrie, with her blessing, and sent her to St. Louis.

The child, then only 10 years old, finally landed at the Woman's Training School, where she made her headquarters at intervals for six months. Several times the managers found her a place with some respectable family, but Carrie preferred the Training School, and invariably ran away from her new quarters and returned to the old. The managers finally gave up and, as a last resort, though not considering it a very wise one, turned her over to Mayor Walbridge and sent her to the House of Refuge on Jan. 22, 1934.

There little Carrie remained continuously for a year and nine months. During that time she grew larger and stronger and rosiest than ever, and gave her superiors very little trouble. She was a quiet, obedient child of childish temper. At such times she would be short and snappy, but these spells were of short duration, and when her passion had subsided she would become as tractable as the mildest maiden in the Refuge. If she offended one of her companions, the breach would be healed with a kiss, and so Carrie came to be loved, and being one of the oldest girls in the institution, she became a recognized leader among the several scores of friends.

One day last autumn a party of friends visited the House of Refuge. Among them was Mrs. Mary Williams, who was identified as Mrs. Mary Williams of Weston, Mo. She formed a strong attachment for Carrie on the spot and determined to give her a home if she would accept it. She conferred with Mayor Walbridge, with the result that on Oct. 22 Carrie was indentured by the city of St. Louis to the motherly Mrs. Williams. Carrie was taken to Weston, Mo., and there for the first time in almost two years, she experienced the joys of a home and tasted the comfort of a home as she had never known.

Red Carrie remained with her benefactor, and she might have been a happy girl today. But again her nomadic spirit asserted itself and she wandered away from the home of Mrs. Williams. The cause of her dissatisfaction she will not reveal, nor will she say a word concerning Mrs. Williams, either of praise or blame.

At all events little Carrie left Weston and struck out on her own. She has no account. Where she spent the next few months Heaven only knows, and herself, and not a syllable of her whereabouts or her life during that time. Within her own determined little breast is locked the name of her betrayer and the knowledge of the circumstances under which she was abandoned. She has succeeded in obtaining from her the slightest information on any of these points.

One day early in March, however, Carrie again strolled into the Woman's Training School and on March 10 she was again committed to the House of Refuge. After a while her condition became noticeable and her name was referred to the Health Department. It was investigated, and it was probably taken up this week, and the unfortunate little Carrie Mitchell will be removed by the city to the House of Refuge, where she will be kept in the best of conditions until a home can be found for her.

Cancer of the Breast.

Mrs. A. H. Crausby, of 138 Kerr St., Memphis, Tenn., says that her wife paid no attention to a small lump which appeared in her breast, but it soon developed into a cancer of the worst type, and notwithstanding the treatment of the best physicians, it continued to spread and grow rapidly, eating two holes in her breast. The doctors soon pronounced her incurable. A celebrated New York specialist then treated her, but she continued to grow worse and when informed that both her aunt and grandmother had died from cancer, she gave the case up as hopeless.

Someone then recommended S.S.S. and a little hope remained. She bought a bottle of S.S.S. and began to use it. The cancer commenced to heal and she had taken several bottles of S.S.S. and the cancer had disappeared. She had been a cancer sufferer for several years and although several years have elapsed, not a sign of the disease has ever returned.

ONE SESSION ENDED

And the Council and House Meets for Another Tuesday.

The Council and House of Delegates have held the last meeting of the session. A few minor bills which needed attention were read the last time and signed by the President and Speaker and then the resolution offered that when the Assembly adjourn it adjourn sine die passed.

The Council on Waterworks Investigation reported that it had accomplished nothing in its work and could not, in consequence, make a report.

Mr. Cronin asked that the Street Commissioner be asked to put wooden blocks on the street in front of the City Hall, because he could not hear what the other members were saying.

Delegates Sullivan kicked on a carriage bill for $4 incurred by the Clerks of the House who were detained down town until 2:30 a. m. last week while working on the conduit bill.

Messrs. Ritter, Becker, and Cronin were appointed a committee to wait upon the Mayor to ascertain if there was any business to be brought before the Assembly before it adjourned. The committee returned in a few minutes, and Mr. Cronin said to the Speaker: "I have few de coos," then he sat down while Mr. Ritter handed the clerk a communication the Mayor had left before his departure from his office.

The Council finished up a few measures it had on hand and adjourned. The Assembly must, under the charter provision, meet again Tuesday to reorganize for the next term. The House will reorganize Tuesday with the same officers.

HIS THIRST UNQUENCHED.

Instead This Brawler Was Knocked Down and Arrested.

Thomas Howard is one of those elegant individuals who know more and can do things better than anyone else. But he has barked up the wrong tree, and unless his friends prevail on Mayor Walbridge he will sweat down at No. 1001 N. 10th St. Howard's humor got him into trouble. He walked into a South Broadway saloon in the early afternoon and ordered a drink. "Gimme a barber's pole in red," he said quickly about it, he demanded.

Howard's thirst-quencher was a puzzle. He studied for a full two minutes and then politely said: "Beg pardon, but those cordials are just out."

"Out—just out!" roared Howard, his sides shaking with laughter. "Why, you chump, you're the silliest excuse for a bartender I ever saw."

That was all Mr. Howard said, for the bartender's right landed hard on Howard's head, and he stretched out on the floor. Officer Dundon was called in, and after a struggle got Howard up and put him in a patrol box and thence to the Four Courts.

Judge Peckley heard the merits of the case and fined Howard $10. To the Court, Howard explained what the drink was. "If he had been just to the House of Refuge on Jan. 22, 1934."

There little Carrie remained continuously for a year and nine months. During that time she grew larger and stronger and rosiest than ever, and gave her superiors very little trouble. HER MIND IS A WRECK.

A Husband's Cruel Treatment Drives His Young Wife Crazy.

Mrs. Anne Sheridan of 213 Cedar street reported to the police Monday that her daughter, Mrs. Mary Williams, was mentally deranged and had disappeared from her home. Mrs. Williams was found by a policeman wandering on the street and taken to the police station.

According to Mrs. Sheridan all her daughter's misfortunes are due to the man she married. Three years ago she was a girl as a mother's heart would wish. Then she married William Williams. He lived with her two weeks and deserted her. Since then the young wife has brooded until she lost her mind.

Mrs. Sheridan had her put in the insane asylum for four months when she was released. A month ago she left her mother's house and went to no one knows where. She returned to her mother's house and was found by Mrs. Sheridan, fearing for her, notified the police.

Mrs. Sheridan says Williams has another wife in Texas. She does not know where he is now.

CLAIMS HE'S PERSECUTED.

Harold Paine's Mother Says He Is Not a Vagrant.

Mrs. Eliza Tiltonson, mother of Harold Paine, asserts that her son has been made a victim of police persecution and that there was no cause whatever for his arrest.

Thursday afternoon it will be remembered Chief Desmond ordered Paine arrested because he had been in trouble some time ago. The chief said he was a vagrant and an associate of thieves. The fact is that Paine was arrested while in the company of Attorney Feusky at the Four Courts. He has whatever he wants, and is therefore not a vagrant. He was released when an attorney appeared for him.

Paine's troubles seem to multiply. After living a life of rectitude for several years, he was arrested on the charge of vagrancy. Within a year his wife died and for the past year he has been living with his mother and sister.

ISABEL FELDMAN.

THEIR DAY OF BLISS.

Miss Isabel Feldman Becomes the Wife of Alfred Banantine.

A marriage of unusual interest was celebrated Tuesday morning at 8:30 at St. Xavier's Church, corner Lindell boulevard and Grand avenue. Miss Isabel A. Feldman, a pretty belle of German society circles, became the wife of Alfred Banantine of the Banantine Galvanizing Iron Works.

The engagement of this young couple was announced prior to the departure of Miss Feldman to Europe last summer, but she had been all her ante-nuptial arrangements that not one of the guests suspected that the happy event was to come so early. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and lilies, and the ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the two families.

The bride wore an exquisite wedding gown brought from Paris. It was made of heavy ivory-tinted satin, with long train and the corsage made plain and high with a white lace collar.

The groom wore a tuxedo and carried a sword. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father John J. Connelley, pastor of St. Xavier's Church.

The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents and several other relatives. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The couple will reside at 1001 N. 10th St. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Feldman, of St. Louis.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Banantine, of St. Louis. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri.

The wedding was a private affair, and only a few guests were present. The ceremony was simple and elegant.

The bride and groom were both very happy. The ceremony was a success.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR MEET.

Biennial Session of the Grand Lodge Listens to Reports.

The sixteenth biennial session of the Missouri Grand Lodge of the Knights of Honor began Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in Hall No. 2, Odd Fellows Building.

Grand Dictator Louis Benekke of Brunswick, Mo., called the roll and the delegates together, and made his official address.

He said that nine new lodges had been formed during his term, that ten lodges were consolidated into five, and that nine new members had been initiated.

Mr. Benekke's most important statement was an expression of opinion that women should be admitted as members of the lodge. He also said that the executive committee of the supreme lodge should be avoided.

The report of the grand treasurer showed that the total membership Dec. 31, 1935, was 1,000, and on Dec. 1, 1936, was 1,100. The total membership Dec. 31, 1935, was 1,000, and on Dec. 1, 1936, was 1,100.

In explanation of this decrease the grand treasurer said: "During the past two years we have been passing a trying ordeal as a fraternal organization. Business depression and an excessive death rate calling for almost continuous triple assessments during the last two years has resulted in a loss to the lodge of 400 members. This apparently heavy loss may be coming, however, placing the loss where it properly belongs and making proper allowance for the large increase in membership during the last two years, I am warranted in saying that the order in this jurisdiction is in far better condition than it has been for years."

The report of the grand treasurer showed that the total membership Dec. 31, 1935, was 1,000, and on Dec. 1, 1936, was 1,100. The total membership Dec. 31, 1935, was 1,000, and on Dec. 1, 1936, was 1,100.

After the reports had been read the grand dictator appointed the standing committee for the next session. The session will continue for several days.

BOTH

Fought, But Were Jilted by Henrietta.

Oh, hear the clamor of the our, and to hear them tear out into the arena, when the sun is shining, and the flowers call down dark imprecations upon the heads of the two young men.

But as the law of sequence, and we not with great frequency, that two young men always pant for one small girl upon each other. Then it is these youths who get to handling each other's throats.

Tommy Dean loved Henrietta Daisy Bell Marie Gamba. And he didn't care who knew it, and he didn't care till yet. But he had a great notion of killing him and he too, an oath to kill him every rival who should dare to love the girl.

Monday night these two young men, panting like a pair of bellows, met in Forest Park, where Henri had regaled a friendly group. Then there was a great contention between the two young men.

Tommy Dean drew forth a weapon in his pocket he'd been keeping, and he fired two heavy bullets right at Johnnie Gamba's head. But the latter, nothing daunted, swore 'twas just the chance he wanted, and he tried to cleave his gizzard and to kill his rival dead.

Then Henrietta Daisy Bell Marie Gamba rushed between the two young men and swore she never saw the like. At her voice the rivals wilted. Then the both of them she lifted, spurned them from her maiden presence and rode home upon her bike.

WITH THE PLAYER-FOLK.

It was altogether too warm for indoor amusements Monday night, but a big crowd assembled at the Olympic to greet "An Artist's Model."

An "Artist's Model." It was the first appearance in St. Louis of the big English burlesque company, and there was considerable curiosity to see the beautiful Marie Studholme and her troupe.

The troupe consisted of a number of very pretty chorus girls, some of them of the type of the "Dresden China" face, and a large assortment of jokes and witticisms, some old and some new, and a few of the "Dresden China" face, and a large assortment of jokes and witticisms, some old and some new.

OTHERS, Do You Know

Batesman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrup, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. SAMUEL PITCHER. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children will be kept well, and that you will have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper.

FELL DEAD IN A SAL

Whisky Drinker.

An unknown man dropped dead in the saloon, No. 1800 Olive street, at 5:30 a. m. Tuesday. The body was removed to the morgue.

The deceased is supposed to have been either a millwright or glazier. He was about 35 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighed 160 pounds, and was a native of Ireland. He lived in the neighborhood, as he was clad only in trousers, vest, slippers and underwear.

Shortly before his demise the stranger entered the saloon, greeted Fred McKee, the bartender, pleasantly and got a drink of whisky. He stood around for a few minutes, then he went to the saloon and fell. He was found by a policeman who called a doctor. The doctor pronounced him dead.

The police and coroner have some work to do before the case is closed. The papers found on the dead man was a card on which some pseudo physician had prescribed a dose of 100 grains of opium. The dose is an enormous one and might have killed him at a time and not a moment later. Sulphonal is a soporific and is rarely prescribed in more than 6-grain doses. It is a dangerous drug, and those having heart trouble or any other ailment should be warned against its use, and those having heart trouble or any other ailment should be warned against its use.

It has a depressing effect on the heart and, as Dr. W. H. says, is liable to snap the thread of life.

"Forty grains of sulphonal," said the coroner, "is a most dangerous dose, even to a man in perfect health."

A post-mortem will be developed whether or not the man was suffering from heart trouble, the police will endeavor to ascertain who "C. S. B." is and also where the deceased obtained the sulphonal.

BARON HIRSCH. DIES IN HUNGARY.

The Famous Philanthropist Succumbs to Heart Disease

AT HIS KOMORN ESTATE.

One of His Many Achievements Was His Colonization Scheme for the Russian Jews.

VIENNA, April 21.—Baron Hirsch died this morning of heart disease at his estate near Komorn.

Although the Baron Maurice de Hirsch has for several years been known to all the people of the civilized world, his name does not appear in any of the books devoted to biographies of great men. Strange as it may seem, this wonderful man, who has undertaken the most gigantic enterprises in most magnificent manner, whose fortune is so vast that no one seems to know its limit, whose courage and energy are so splendid, whose effect upon the world's history is not even mentioned among the notables of the day in any of the better known publications. There are two possible reasons for this omission. One is that only within a few years has he arisen before the world like another Monte Cristo. Another is that the information obtainable concerning him is so contradictory in most essential features that a biographer would find it difficult to search out the truth most laborious and the results exceedingly unsatisfactory.

His full name is Maurice de Hirsch de Gereuth. His father was a wealthy merchant in Bavaria, who, for services rendered to the state, was ennobled in 1829. After his father's death the Baron associated himself with the European banking house of Bischoffshelm & Goldmidt, and was the first to plan the system of railways leading from Buda-Pesth, in Hungary, to Varanasi, on the Black Sea. By dint of skill, will and financial capabilities of the highest order, the Baron's plans were carried out, and great wealth accrued to the family of the road. Having married Miss Hirsch, the Baron some years ago from business and his wife were constantly forward good works. An office established with a corps of clerks, for the purpose of the details of their philanthropic plan in Egypt and the Sudan, and Asiatic Turkey many schools, educational and industrial, have been founded and maintained by the Baron. For instruction in Galicia he has given $20,000. To Russia he made the munificent offer of $10,000 for public instruction, with this sole proviso, that no distinction should be made in the application of the funds as to race or religion. The Russian Government declined.

Soon afterwards the Baron's attention was directed toward the United States in regard to the actual condition of the Russian Jews coming here, and plans were developed for their relief. The Baron gave $240,000, and subsequently monthly payments of $10,000 were made since March, 1880. Russian emigration was not to be encouraged, but every effort was to be used to thoroughly Americanize the newcomers. Boys and girls were to be sent to schools, model farms were to be provided and co-operation was to be secured. The Baron Hirsch spent much of his time in England, but as the host at his home in Paris or on his estate within a few miles, said to be magnificent without ostentation. The best was none too good for his guests, he was evidence of his country. The Prince of Wales set found it pleasant to visit him. The partridge shooting at Richmond, St. James, was one of his favorite pastimes. It is said to be the finest in Europe. He was himself a hunter, and his habits were almost ascetic. The pleasures of the table had no attraction for him. He mingled a little red wine with his water. He did not smoke. He exercised a great deal, and was a tireless pedestrian.

Paris, April 21.—Baron Hirsch, the distinguished political economist, died at 2:30 this morning.

SPIED ON COL. COMFORT.

The Mayor's Chief Lieutenant Disturbed by Filley's Prying Myrmidons.

Col. Charles D. Comfort, Mayor Walbridge's chief lieutenant and principal assistant in the distribution of City Hall patronage, is running a little side show of his own in connection with the great Republican hippodrome in the Twelfth Congressional District, which means that the Crendle committee of the National Convention will have to deal with trouble other than that which will be brought here for them by the colored cohorts of the South.

Col. Comfort, as everybody knows, was recently deposed as Secretary of the Twelfth Congressional District Committee because of his alleged mismanagement. He was replaced by Filley. Then the Colonel and four other members of the committee set up in business for themselves, and denounce Chairman Mike Forrester and his seven associates as bolters.

Col. Comfort's committee met in a back room of his office, No. 9 North Tenth street, Monday night, and the police guarded the premises. Chairman Filley presided and the Colonel discharged the duties as secretary with entire satisfaction. The meeting was held in the representation from the Twenty-second, Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth wards, which were filled by election of W. V. Walcott, R. H. Cornell and H. C. Dietrich, respectively, who were present and presided. The meeting was held in the representation from the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth wards which were filled at the next meeting.

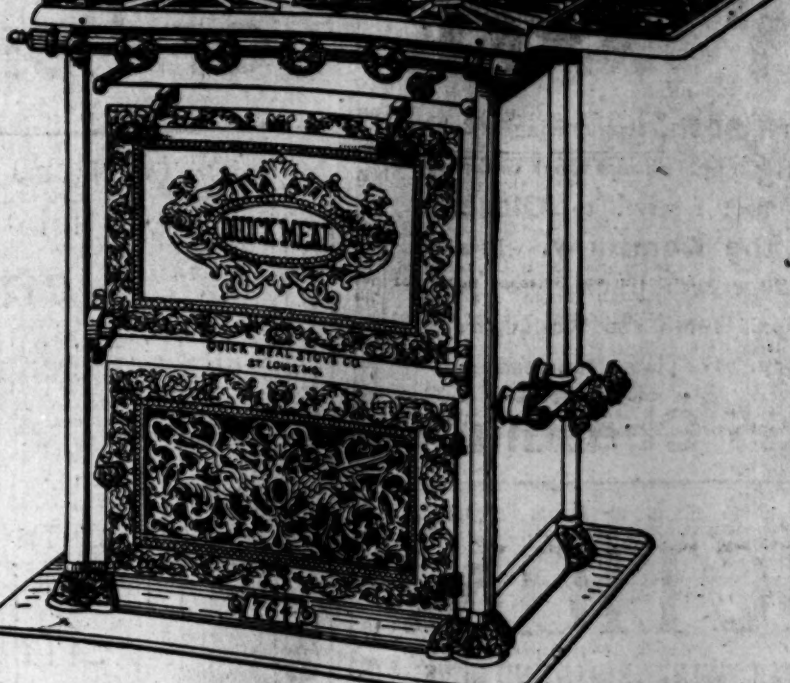

A call was issued for district primaries to be held May 15 for the election of delegates to a convention that will meet at Addison's Hall the following day. The only sensational incident of the meeting was the discovery by Col. Comfort of what he declares to have been an attempt of two of Uncle Filley's henchmen to eavesdrop.

The Colonel's keen eyes discerned the forms of the two men lurking in the alley off the back room of his office. They had their ears very close to the wire screen of the back room, and his first impulse was to shoot the ears. Cooler judgment controlled him, and he and Chairman Filley, a noiseless pair, went out to the alley and caught the enemy red-handed. They tried to run away before their identity could be established, but Comfort and Filley were too swift for them.

They identified them as Mr. Patrick J. Regan, Secretary of the Forrester organization, and Mr. John J. Central Committee member for the Twenty-first Ward, Col. Comfort and Chairman Filley "closed" them, and let them go with their hands a whole lot of secrets to pour into Uncle Filley's willing and eager ears.

The basis of representation for the Comfort convention is one delegate for each 150 votes cast for Harrison four years ago.

DESIRABLE IMPROVEMENTS.

Ringen Realty Co. to Build Handsome Flats in McRee Place.

The Ringen Real Estate Co., of which John Ringen of the Ringen Stove Co. is president, is about to begin an important improvement in McRee place that will add greatly to the appearance of the district in which it is located.

About one year ago Henry Hiemen, Jr., sold McRee place at auction. The Ringen Real Estate Co. became the purchaser at the sale of a triangular piece of property fronting 120 feet on New Manchester road, 150 feet on Newstead avenue and 125 feet on Rutgers.

The plans for the two rows of buildings have been finished and the contracts let. The work of excavating is to be begun in the next ten days.

The total cost of the improvement will be in the neighborhood of $30,000. This is a section of the city, known as the Rock Springs district, in which many improvements are contemplated during the coming year. Its proximity to the manufacturing districts just west of it has already made it the home of many of the families of workmen employed by the manufacturers.

The corner lot, 25x125 feet, was sold to Louis Bernero at $250 per foot. The next lot, 25x125 feet, sold to W. H. Ritter at $125 per foot. The next lot, 25x125 feet, sold to W. H. Ritter at $125 per foot.

The next lot, 25x125 feet, was sold to C. H. Theswald for $125 per foot. The next lot, 25x125 feet, was taken by Dr. W. B. Witherspoon at $125 per foot.

The proceeds were considered fair, the corner being destined for one of the principal business locations in the West End.

The T. D. Donovan Real Estate Co. report the sale of a lot 25x125 on the north side of Gibson avenue, fifty feet east of Newstead, from Henry Kelson, Jr., to Sylvester T. Johnston, for $30 per foot.

A FRACTURED SKULL.

And Henry Wehrman Didn't Know It Till He Was Arrested.

Henry Wehrman, 31 years of age, of 1223 Montgomery street, was arrested Monday night at the request of his father, who accused him of disturbing the family's peace.

Soon after his arrest Wehrman was taken to the North End hospital, where he was found to be suffering from a slight fracture of the skull. The injury, he says, was received several days ago at the Government works, six-and-a-half miles down the river, where he was employed, and was aggravated by the first use of a rifle.
